

Heiselt ~~Hostelry~~ Hotel
across River on Bridge above ^{Lee's} gravel pit -

Heber Creeper stopped there -

Picnic

Heiselts lived across from Gr. pr
Greene (Geo A) later - only Steel owned ground & House behind Heiselt Hotel & up in hills - Queenie rode pigs

Green City now owns it - & has city water tank

Heiselt Family
& Hotel in Provo Canyon

The Heiselt Family had my father Thomas & his brother Uncle John Collins build this historic rock Hotel in the early 1900's in lower Provo Canyon. It was located across from the Present Provo Gravel & Rock Products Co. over the first canal & river bridge in Provo Canyon. All the property west of the Hotel was owned by Brig Steele. Brig had a daughter named Queenie and they owned a large herd of pigs in this area. Queenie could ride these large pigs as other people ride horses. She was a rootin tootin pig girl & only child. Lilacs still bloom on the Steele property in the spring. The Heiselt Hotel was large enough to accomodate many tourists & Provo people who enjoyed staying the nite, week or month. The people came over the One & Only Heber Creeper train which wound its way slowly thru the Provo Canyon daily. There was a large wooden platform where people could step from the train & walk to the Cool Veranda of the Hotel in the cool summer air, or the beautiful winter snow & was always welcomed by the friendly Heiselts. The Heiselts in their later years were neighbors of Grandma Green in Provo on 3rd east & they told many stories connected to their early years in the Hotel in Provo Canyon & their friendship of my father, Thomas Collins.

Feb 1984

Betta Collins Green

Stress Workshop

for

HEBER VALLEY RESIDENTS

sponsored by

The Prevention Center

May 12, 1982

5:30 P.M.

COURTHOUSE - County Commission Room
25 North Main
Heber City, Utah

- How to identify stress
- Role of stress in our lives
- Coping with stress
- Stress management
- Identifying positive/negative stressors
- Getting stress under control
- Skills, methods of dealing with stress

For more information call: The Prevention Center - Rosie, Kathie 649-8347

Wasatch County Health Department - Nelda
654-3211 #37

SEE YOU THERE!

